SharePoint child pages

This was a site was for people managers only and provided resources and information. Each button provided managers with tools and resources for employees at each stage of the employee life cycle.

HOW TO GET THERE

STEP 1. Go to the file linked to "Employee Training Requirements Checklist" below to understand what training you need to complete.

STEP 2. Based on that checklist, access either "MD University" or "MD Training Portal" to complete the required training.

OTHER RESOURCES:

- Use the "Certifications" link when directed by your instructors from various training sessions conducted in-person or via teleconference.
- "In Person Training" links are provided for instructors to log attendance and communicate upcoming events.

Employee Training Requirements Checklist

This is the list of training required for all employees. Additional specific training may be assigned, depending on your location, job title, or other requirements.

View the Employee Training Requirements Checklist

MD University

MD University provides on-line computer based training for SSA Compliance, Code of Conduct, and many optional personal enrichment courses.

Visit the MD University Site

Access Certifications

Printing your own course certificate

1. Log in to Skill Port
2. Select "My Progress" from the LAR Navigation Menu
3. Select the Appropriate Date Range for the Course you're looking for (i.e., Last 60 Days, Last 12 Months, All, etc)
4. Click the ribbon icon (📄) in the Actions column for the course you've completed
5. This will open a window containing the course certificate which can be printed (view sample certificate)

MD Training Portal

The MD Training Portal is the central location for Sensitive Security Information (SSI) & Export Compliance Training, Technical Training & Service
