

Our Finance Team is taking care of business!

Many thanks and a huge Smiths Way kudos goes our dedicated, hardworking finance team for consecutively completing several major projects. These include completing a double audit review with PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) for both the March 31 “opening” balance sheet and the July 31 financial year-end “closing” balance sheet; adoption of new Smiths accounting policies; and supporting the sale of the Trace Detection business in early July.

And this is all on the heels of the finalization of the acquisition of Morpho Detection by Smiths and the implementation of a new Enterprise Resource System!

“With great Integrity and Passion for what they do, all members of the team came together and truly exemplified the Smiths Way values to successfully carry out these large projects,” shared XXXX XXXXX, Corporate Development Director, Smiths Group.

So how do bean counters celebrate these impressive achievements? Why they hit the court and take scores for a lively game of bocce ball! For all those diehard bocce ball fans out there, be on the lookout for Ramesh XXXX, mild mannered accountant by day and rising bocce ball star during off hours...
